

Author Talk: Charles Belfoure The Fallen Architect

Wednesday, October 10 • 7 – 8:30 pm
Wilton Library

Charles Belfoure

Novelist Charles Belfoure, who's been called "an up and coming Ken Follett" (Booklist), is the nationally bestselling author of The Paris Architect. He builds a captivating narrative for his protagonist, Douglas Layton. Layton goes to prison for a fallen structure he designed, but was it really his tragedy to bear? After prison and a new identify, Layton seeks to uncover what really happened. See the library's registration link for more details. An architect by profession, Belfoure graduated from the Pratt Institute and Columbia University. His area of specialty is historic preservation, and he has published several architectural histories. He has been a freelance writer for The Baltimore Sun and The New York Times. He lives in Maryland. A Q&A will follow the talk. There is no charge. Registration is highly recommended. Books will be available for purchase and signing courtesy of Elm Street Books.
